

Vice Chancellor
East West University

Message

I wholeheartedly congratulate the graduating class of 2008 on the Seventh Convocation ceremony of East West University. It is a great privilege for me and my colleagues to observe this auspicious day. I am proud of the fact that this success has been achieved as a result of joint accomplishments by our students, faculty members, and management of the University.

The graduating students have proven themselves worthy of the degrees and it is time for them to pluck the fruits of the hard work they put in during years of university education. Now that they have completed their studies, it is time for them to undertake major responsibilities and contribute to the development of the nation as a whole. I do not have any doubt that they are capable of constructing new paths, taking up unknown challenges, and bringing forth triumph and glory for themselves and for the country. I would like to remind them that they have just embarked upon a long and ceaseless journey; in this journey, they need to hold on to their dreams, tend it well in order to realize them, and ultimately to reach their final destination.

The success of these students once again proves that East West University is an institution that upholds “excellence in education.” Our continuous endeavor in providing quality education, in creating knowledge through faculty research, and in delivering research-based knowledge to our students have made us one of the top ranking universities in the country. On behalf of the faculty, staff, and administration of the University, I promise to all of you that we will keep up our efforts to achieve even better and reach higher heights.

Finally, I extend my heartfelt blessings to the graduates and wish them a bright and prosperous future.

Professor Mohammed Sharif