

VC NEWSLETTER

DECEMBER 2023 - JANUARY 2024

MESSAGE FROM THE VC

It has been just over three months since I joined East West University (EWU), but I have had the pleasure of meeting nearly all the academic and administrative staff. In this short time, I have witnessed many success stories regarding teaching and learning, research and publications, attracting both internal and external research funds, receiving awards, and representing EWU at different forums. I believe that it is important to communicate and celebrate these achievements both within and beyond EWU, as it helps to foster relationships. To achieve this, we have initiated a VC Newsletter, which will initially be published bi-monthly but may be more frequent in the future.

Previously, we used to record such outstanding achievements in the printed newsletter. However, we realized that we needed a distinct platform to showcase these achievements more effectively. Our printed newsletter is primarily geared towards students and their families, so keeping the focus on our students' accomplishments, as well as the university's facilities and achievements, is of utmost importance. With this in mind, we have revamped our printed newsletter. However, we also believe that recognizing the achievements of our faculty members is equally crucial and deserves to be applauded. As a solution, I have introduced a new digital newsletter called VC Newsletter. Here is the first issue.

Aditya Rahman Shah, Senior Lecturer, Department of Law, East West University was granted a full training scholarship from British Institute of International and Comparative Law (BIICL) to attend a short course on "Business and Human Rights". (4-10 January 2024).

Nabila Farhin, Senior Lecturer, Department of Law, East West University won the Labor Research and Action Network Research Grant 2024, by Jobs with Justice Education Fund, USA. This research grant will yield valuable insights into the challenges faced by the workers in Bangladesh. The importance of the research lies in its potential to drive positive change, advocate for the rights and well-being of workers, and promote a more equitable and just society.

Dr. Muhammed Shahriar Haque, Professor, Department of English, East West University received fund from East West University Centre for Research and Training to conduct a research project titled "Teaching Myanmar Curriculum in the World's Largest Refugee Camp: A Critical Insight".

Mohammad Pizuar Hossain, Senior Lecturer, Department of Law was awarded a conference grant by the European Cooperation in Science and Technology (EU COST Actions) to cover his international expenses for the COST Final Conference at the University of Oslo in Norway in January 2024.

Mohammad Pizuar Hossain also received fund from East West University Centre for Research and Training to conduct a research project titled "Human Rights Abuses against the Rohingya in Myanmar: Exploring the Role of Transitional Justice". This study completed on January 09, 2024 aimed to identify policy implications for Myanmar's development of human rights-based policy frameworks for the Rohingya population, with the cooperation of Bangladesh and the international community. It suggests promoting a holistic approach to address human rights violations, including the implementation of transitional justice measures for the Rohingya community living in Cox's Bazar, Bangladesh.

Mohammad Pizuar Hossain spoke on the lack of transparency in political advertisements on Facebook during an interview with Sarwar Hossain Suman on Channel 24 on December 25, 2023. He focuses on the problem of over-enforcement, with non-political ads being incorrectly classified on Facebook, disproportionately affecting commercial entities. He emphasizes that the unintended mislabelling, which ranges from product advertising to employment services, raises concerns about the efficacy of Meta’s ad classification algorithms.
